scarlette christie

Scarlette is a creative, hard-working business owner. As one of the highest-rated interior designers in the city where she lives, her reputation means everything to her. She started her business with just one employee – her – and now, she has a team of over fifty people working for her. While she has come to the island after receiving the strange invitation, she would clearly rather be back in the city designing magazine-worthy living rooms than spending the weekend in the place she has worked all these years to forget.

There aren't many people who a don't know Vicki Broadwater. This Hollywood star has been at the top of all casting directors' Most Wanted lists since her breakout roll five years ago in a screen adaptation of a best-selling teen book series. Since, Vicki has been in the spotlight. She recently divorced her high school boyfriend, Caleb, quite suddenly and without explanation – something with which the tabloids had a field day! Vicki is a true actress, and loves to put on a show for the cameras and social media.

Dana moved across the country shortly after graduation and has never looked back. While technically she owns Enmity Island and the Knox House, she claims she never returned, and had planned to never step foot on this 'wretched rock' ever again. Her late parents left Enmity Island and the house on it to her though, and she has had it on the market since. Without any interest at all, even this no-nonsense woman insists the house, perhaps the land, is cursed. Dana was reluctant to return – so why did she?

A mortgage broker in Marc Iles' office, Faith is young – in her mid-twenties – and eager to learn about the industry and get her career going. It's hard not to like Faith Price, because her enthusiasm for meeting everyone, being on the island for the weekend and seeing the house is infectious, and before people started dying, those who met Faith were actually having a good time getting to know her.

caleb doyle

Pseudo-celebrity Caleb Doyle earned his celebrity status because of his marriage to Vicki Broadwater - a marriage that has now come to an end. As half of one of Hollywood's "it" couples, Caleb watched his reputation be smeared as the media speculated as to the reasons for their divorce. A year has passed since, this egomaniacal man has made a career for himself out of thin air, being paid to show up at parties and for media appearances, all on the coat tails of his failed marriage to his high school sweetheart-turned famed actress, Vicki Broadwater. Caleb is sharp-tongued and convinced of his own entitlement, and always seems to have a dark plot brewing behind his shifty eyes.

Husband of Dana Knox, Marc is a realtor and has offered his services to help his wife of two years sell the island and the house on it. Since Dana has had no interest so far, Marc has offered to take the reins on the sale and, with any luck, help her get rid of the island once and for all. A calm and composed man, Marc exudes confidence, which has made him one of the top salesmen in the city in which they live. When Dana received the strange invitation, Marc offered to come with her for moral support, and to hopefully get some pictures of the island and house for the listing.

Neil Michaels is a stranger to all here but Marc Iles. A client of Marc's, Neil is interested in purchasing Enmity Island and the Knox House. They had planned to come out for a viewing anyhow, so Neil tagged along with his realtor to see the island, the house and decide whether he wanted to move forward with the purchase of Enmity Island. Neil is affable, and while he doesn't know anyone here, his outgoing personality means he doesn't feel out of place.
