

The Suspects

Makala Wahini

Detective Wahini is one of Hawaii's finest detectives, but her investigative skills are second only to her uncanny ability to intuit her reckless partner, Halulu (Hal) Okole's every move. She has saved Hal's life no less than thirty six times, a debt she won't let him forget when the bar tab arrives. Makala is vivacious, independent and strong, is a crack shot and has a mean right hook.

Ha'iku Mahalulu

Ha'iku is an entrepreneur, and co-owner in a luau dancer doll stand, which attracts tourists from all over the islands because of their renowned selection of dancing dolls, typically displayed on tourists' dashboards upon their return home. Ha'iku is friendly and enthusiastic, and is well-known all over the islands for her happy disposition.

Keiki Kealoha

Keiki is the daughter of one of Oahu's most treasured men. Her family has owned a large piece of stunning beach front property for generations, and vowed to keep it, despite the multi-million dollar offers they received almost weekly from developers. She is passionate about Hawaii and the original Polynesian culture, and is not afraid to stand up for her family and Hawaii when she feels someone is speaking ill of either.

Halulu (Hal) Okole

Halulu, more commonly known as “Hal”, is a detective, and one of the island's most notorious. His quick-witted sarcasm is second only to his shoot-first-and-ask-questions-later approach to law enforcement, and it seems not a week goes by without him ending up in a sticky situation of some sort. Good thing his partner, the vivacious Makala Wahini, is usually not far away, and has made bailing him out of dangerous situations her number one priority.

Keanu Keawe

Ex-surfing champion Keanu Keawe is a native of Hawaii, and a celebrated local celebrity. In spite of his surfing fame, he recently retired from competing to start his own business, teaching women on vacation how to surf. His business is thriving, partially thanks to his startling good looks and his charisma. Naturally, he has a reputation for being a real ladies' man.

Jackson Haines

Jackson Haines is one of the richest real estate moguls on the island. His track record is immaculate, and his client list reads like a who's who of celebrities and the world's wealthy. He is a no-nonsense businessman who thinks of nothing but the bottom line, a practice responsible for his unbelievable wealth and success.

Ipo Lono

Ipo Lono is the scariest, most intimidating man on the island! While he is not a large man, Ipo's reputation precedes him, and a simple glare from him can clear a room. Most people on the island are afraid of him, due to the rumours that he has used brute force to collect loan repayments and even deadly force to make people comply with his wishes.

Charlotte Peachman

Charlotte is a woman in the prime of her life. Playful and flirtatious, Charlotte returns each year to the Make Kaka to spend at least six weeks resting and relaxing at the resort. Wealthy and vivacious, Charlotte tips generously and enjoys the company of men - especially younger men. Charlotte wears a long, flowing dress and an over-sized hat and seems to float around from place to place as she takes in all of the luxury the Make Kaka Resort has to offer.

Duke Rupert Wellington IV

Wealthy, charming and charismatic, Rupert Wellington IV has set the patrons at the Make Kaka resort abuzz with his arrival. A proper English Duke, not only is Rupert terribly wealthy, he is also single, and rumoured to be searching for a wife! His debonair demeanor and smooth English accent has won over men and women alike. Rupert Wellington IV wears a relaxed shirt, a light pair of dress pants and a smile that makes women swoon.
