MARILYN COX

There are not many who don't know the name Marilyn Cox. She is one of the most famous actresses of all time, and has been in the spotlight since she was seventeen, after she was "discovered" at a laundromat while folding her delicates. Since then she has starred in over 40 movies, including "The Good and The Gorgeous", "Blue Porpoise Avenue" and "The Milkman Only Rings Once" and has had a string of illustrious men who come and go as though through a revolving door. Wherever she goes, Marilyn oozes glamour, and she can always be found with a circle of men around her, hanging off her every word. Her style is photographed by paparazzi regularly and copied by women the world over.

GERRY GILL

Gerry (Geraldine) is a cocktail waitress at The Bourbon, but like most waitresses these days, she's really an aspiring actress. She pursued the position at The Bourbon because she knew it was the place where the big names (and those who knew the big names), come to mix and mingle and be. She has been working in the lounge for six months and has yet to be discovered, but holds out hope that the next star who walks through the door will bring with them her "Big Break". In the meantime, she gets by on the pittance she makes at the club – barely. Gerry wears a skirt or high-waisted trousers and a fashionable shirt with an apron.

His assumption of leadership has met opposition and disapproval from both his enemies and those within his own "organization". Alvin wears a sharp pin-striped suit, a fedora and carries a pistol.

PHIL PIPER

Phil is Shhhhhh! Magazine's star reporter, and is never not working an angle. Shhhhhh! Magazine is the city's most popular scandal magazine, keeping its readers up-to-date on everything that's on the strict "QT". If it's scandalous, slanderous or shocking, Phil will be on the scene. Many people have found that the things they have discussed with him in casual conversation end up on the front page of Shhhhhh! the next day. Those who are smart keep their lips shut tight when Phil is around, but he's very good at his job and has a knack for coaxing the information he wants out of some of the city's most prominent citizens, including the mayor himself! Because of this, Phil's list of enemies is as thick as the phone book, but he considers his infamy a mark of his success. Phil wears a suit, trench coat and fedora hat. He never leaves home without his reporter's notepad and some cash, just in case he needs to bribe someone.
