

Suspect List

Jill Harm

Best friend of Ronnie Farber and part of the "nerd" clique, Jill has spent the last few months acing tests and assignments and running Ronnie Farber's campaign for prom king. A dedicated and devoted friend, Jill is the reason Ronnie Farber even stands a chance of being named prom king over the popular jock, Scott Mahoney. Jill is outspoken and quick to speak up against anything she considers to be wrong-doing or unfairness, regardless of the social status of the person on the other end of her tirade.

Alyssa Graves

The unchallenged candidate for Prom Queen, Alyssa Graves is the most popular girl at Gladstone High. This captain of the cheer-leading squad is considered high school royalty, and she loves every minute of the attention she receives. Despite the fact that the girls in the school wish they were her and the boys wish to date her, she has been dating captain of the football team and victim Scott Mahoney all through high school. She and Scott seemed to be shoe-ins to be voted prom king and queen - until Ronnie Farber's nomination, that is.

Cristal "Spooky" Cavern

Social outcast Cristal Cavern is considered "weird" by pretty much everyone else in the school. Raised by hippies, Cristal's odd, witch-like behavior and frumpy clothes have earned her the nickname of "Spooky". In fact, most people don't even know her real name, and even teachers have mistakenly called her Spooky. Cristal is introverted and when she does speak, her words are cryptic..

Cyndi Sloan

Best friend of prom queen Alyssa Graves, Cyndi is part of the popular clique at Gladstone High. A cheerleader, Cyndi is not strong academically, but she can always be found at Alyssa's side. As a twin, Cyndi Sloan ensures she stands out with her tall feathered bangs and Madonna-inspired outfits. Coming from a wealthy family, she spends most of her weekends with her friends shopping at the mall.

Mrs. Croonberg

The math teacher at Gladstone High, Mrs. Croonberg only just recently transferred to Gladstone High from a school in a different city. Kind, enthusiastic and idealistic, Mrs. Croonberg believes she can get through to every student, regardless of their academic record. Eager to prove herself at Gladstone High, in addition to her teaching duties, Mrs. Croonberg also head up this years prom committee.

Tammy Sloan

Twin sister of Cyndi Sloan and one of prom queen Alyssa Graves' popular clique of friends, Tammy comes from an affluent family. A member of the cheer-leading squad, Tammy is slightly less popular than her sister Cyndi, but she, Cyndi and Alyssa are rarely apart. Tammy and Cyndi look so similar that most people can't tell them apart, but where her twin is outgoing, Tammy is slightly more subdued, and is usually found decked-out in denim – a stark contrast to her sister's Madonna-inspired style.

Katy Logistern

Katy sits on the outside of the Gladstone High social hierarchy. She focuses on her studies and her afternoon job, and in her free time stays as far away from school as she can. She jokes that she is invisible to the popular kids in school, and hopes that never changes. She is not popular, nor is she a “nerd”, and is planning to attend a university out of area, where she will study to become a doctor.

Melissa Mahoney

Until last week, Melissa was a student at Gladstone High. An excellent student, she excelled academically. Sister of the victim, Scott Mahoney, Melissa was just 18 months younger than her popular brother. In elementary school she did so well in school that she was bumped up a grade, and has since been in the same grade as her big brother, Scott. Her parents and teachers had high hopes of scholarship offers to some of the best universities in the country, but then just last week, she was abruptly expelled from Gladstone High.

Annie Boswell

Considered to be a “nerd” at Gladstone High, Annie Boswell is a strong student, but socially awkward. While she hangs out with Jill Harm and Ronnie Farber she tends to treat them, as well as everyone else, with disdain. Her social status is so low that the popular clique don't even notice her – in fact, they don't even know who she is. Annie is in the top five academically at Gladstone High, and has an academic scholarship to her top pick university.

Erika Kenwell

Erika Kenwell is not part of the popular crowd, but she sure tries her hardest to get their attention. She has tried out each year to be a cheerleader, but head cheerleader Alyssa Graves always tells her she's not Gladstone High cheer team "quality". Regardless, Erika spends her time after school on the bleachers watching their practices, learning the cheers just in case the squad is ever down a person before a big game. Erika is also a vital member of the prom committee, and has spent most of her evenings after watching cheer practice creating the balloon arch and other posters for the prom.

Chad Farmer

Jock Chad Farmer is one of the most popular kids at Gladstone High School. Being the best friend of victim Scott Mahoney, Chad Farmer can usually be found flanking Scott along with the rest of those in their "gang". While he doesn't have many original thoughts of his own and struggles in pretty much every class in school, he is quick to high-five his friends when they say something witty, especially when that witty comment is targeted at someone else.

Joe Maneri

Social outcast Joe Maneri is a misfit, and is constantly in trouble at school. When he does show up for school, he can be found in the back of the class, usually sleeping with his feet up on his desk. Most teachers have completely given up on him and he has very few friends, thanks to his bad address and shabby clothes. Voted "Most Likely To Be Incarcerated For Life", Joe didn't even show up to have his yearbook picture taken.

Ronnie Farber

Considered one of the biggest "nerds" in Gladstone High School, Ronnie Farber spent a lot of his time with his head in a toilet, at the hands of the victim, Scott Mahoney. A genuinely nice guy, Ronnie has become subdued in his senior year. He reluctantly accepted the nomination for Prom King, as he shied away from attention, however while running in the election, he seems to have found his niche, and has as-of-late began to thrive in the spotlight.
