ALAINA

The coven's "Blood Witch", Alaina is rather new to the coven. When she was initiated, she filled a hole in the Adair Coven's magical specialties left by the death of Anura's sister, Ernes. Now that Alaina is part of the coven though, she has been bound to her sisters with a blood ritual and is considered 'one of them' by all members of the coven. Alaina is younger, but incredibly strong in her magic, especially considering that before joining the Adair Coven, she was a solitary witch, and had no actual guidance throughout her life for using and honing her abilities.

PERSICA

Anura's apprentice, Persica has been learning directly from Anura for over five years, and lives in Anura's home. Having been officially adopted by Anura when she was a baby, Persica grew up in the coven, but only started truly honing and mastering her skills in the last few years. Persica is a proficient healer, not just with herbs and potions though... her touch has been known to heal even major injuries, disease and even heart ache. While no one knows how Anura knew of Persica's abilities when she was born or what happened to Persica's true family, she has been with the Adair Coven for decades, and is one of the strongest witches in Savannah.

PANDORA

The Adair Coven's "Cosmic Witch", Pandora deals with all things astronomy and astrology. Having studied the history of cosmology all the way back to the known beginnings of humans, Pandora is not only the planetary authority for the coven, she is also well respected in the city. She works at the Georgia Southern University Planetarium in Savannah, although her work colleagues know nothing of her involvement in the Adair Coven.

DOVE

The “Green Witch” of the Adair Coven, Dove's strongest ability is to communing with plants. A strong herbalist, Dove is the authority on everything to do with nature. Stronger than a mere Earth witch, Dove's most impressive magical ability is unique: with the cooperation of the Oaks and Spanish Moss in Bonaventure Cemetery, she can use her abilities to cloak the coven during ceremonies so they don't risk being seen by mere humans.

SHANERA

Having been with the Adair Coven just a few years, Shanera's speciality is not of blood, but learned. Shanera is a Crystal Witch. While wielding different types of crystals, Shanera's own energy is amplified. She is the go-to woman in the coven for advice on which crystals to use for which outcome, and even for advice on creating grids and altars. Shanera has unique, crystalline eyes, which fits perfectly with her modality.

ANJELI

Not actually a member of the Adair Coven, Anjeli is a Solitary Witch. An energy wielder, she has a very important job as the Guardian of the Veil between the living and the dead. She lives alone just outside the city, but as a long-time friend of Adair Coven leader, Anura, Anjeli is often asked to attend the coven ceremonies, to lend her intense magic and energetic powers to the coven. Anjeli is happy to help, but when the ceremony concludes, she returns to her solitude.

LINDE

The Adairs are fortunate indeed to have Linde as part of the coven. As a "Time Witch", Linde has a very unique ability – to control her perception of time, slowing it down and speeding it up at will. She can also move through the timeline in her consciousness, allowing her to view events from the past, as well as things that have not yet occurred. She's also a bloodline Adair, being the cousin of the victim, Anura Adair.

DAYNA

A newer addition to the Adair coven, Dayna's speciality is herbology. A soft-spoken young witch, Dayna has a softness and air of patience to her that puts everyone else in the coven at ease. She mixes herbs for a variety of different reasons, everything from ceremonial to curing the common cold. Wise beyond her years, Dayna always has the perfect piece of advice to go along with her potions.
